Current concept review / My daily practice / Live Surgical Demonstrations

Course intention

During this course, we try to bring a practical overview on 3 topics concerning shoulder pathology. On each topic, we have a current concept lecture of 30 minutes by an eminent speaker.

This is followed by 3 to 4 short lectures of 10 minutes by experienced faculty members for that topic. During these lectures, they talk about how they treat this pathology in their daily practice, focusing on the practical surgical aspects. This goes from patient installation over which instruments they use, to assistant and radioscopy position. In summary, all aspects we like to see when visiting a surgeon in his own OR.

The presentations are followed by Live Surgery to show all tips and tricks for every subject. The session chairman will try to give a short resume of the different talks and moderates the Live Surgery.
